Bandit Gets Cash, Abandons Tires

Station Attendant Held Up 2nd Time In 30-Day Period

An armed holdup men locked a 25-year-old Washington C. H. service station attendant in a ladies' room Sunday night and took "from $200 to $300" from a cash box and a soft drink machine, and two white sidewall tires from a displayed rack.

The victim was Burnie Marshall, employed at the Ashland Oil and Refining Co. station, 224 W. Court St., who on Aug. 25 was held up by a bandit who escaped with $350. On that occasion Marshall, who lives at 406 E. Paint St., was locked in the trunk of his own car.

Sunday's holdup occurred at almost the exact same hour as the previous one. Marshall was alone in the station shortly before 10 p. m. and had gone back to the ladies' room to clean it up for the night.

"When I turned towards the door, there was a gun pointing at me," Marshall said. "I turned around and saw the man's face behind the gun. He was ordered to 'turn over your money and your keys.' The man apparently was not masked.

"I gave him what I had — the station's and mine, both," Marshall said.

THE DOOR was jammed shut — with an iron bar, it was later revealed — and Marshall was a prisoner in the ladies' room until about 10:40 p. m. when two teen-aged boys stopped at the station for gas. The boys released him.

"There must have been more than one man in on the robbery," Marshall said, explaining. "I could hear them talking out front."

Marshall said he could give no description of the man who locked him in the rest room. "His face was in the shadows, mostly, and I wouldn't recognize him if I saw him on the street," he said.

The vending machine was pried open and yielded $23. The rest of the money, except that taken from Marshall, was taken from a cash box in the station office. Marshall said he wasn't certain how much the bandit got from him.

THE TIRES were found on Central Place, the alley between Hinde and Main Sts., near the Paint St. intersection, about 7 a. m. by Herbert Williamson of 106 W. Paint St. as he was on his way to work.

Total estimate of the loss was made to police by L. F. (Skeet) Everhart, 430 N. North St., proprietor of the company-owned station.

Police Chief D. Vaiden Long, on vacation this week, was called in from his home to supervise the investigation. An agent from the Bureau of Criminal Identification at London was on the scene dusting for fingerprints shortly after midnight.

Marshall has been employed by the station only two months.

Circleville Municipal Judge Resigns Position

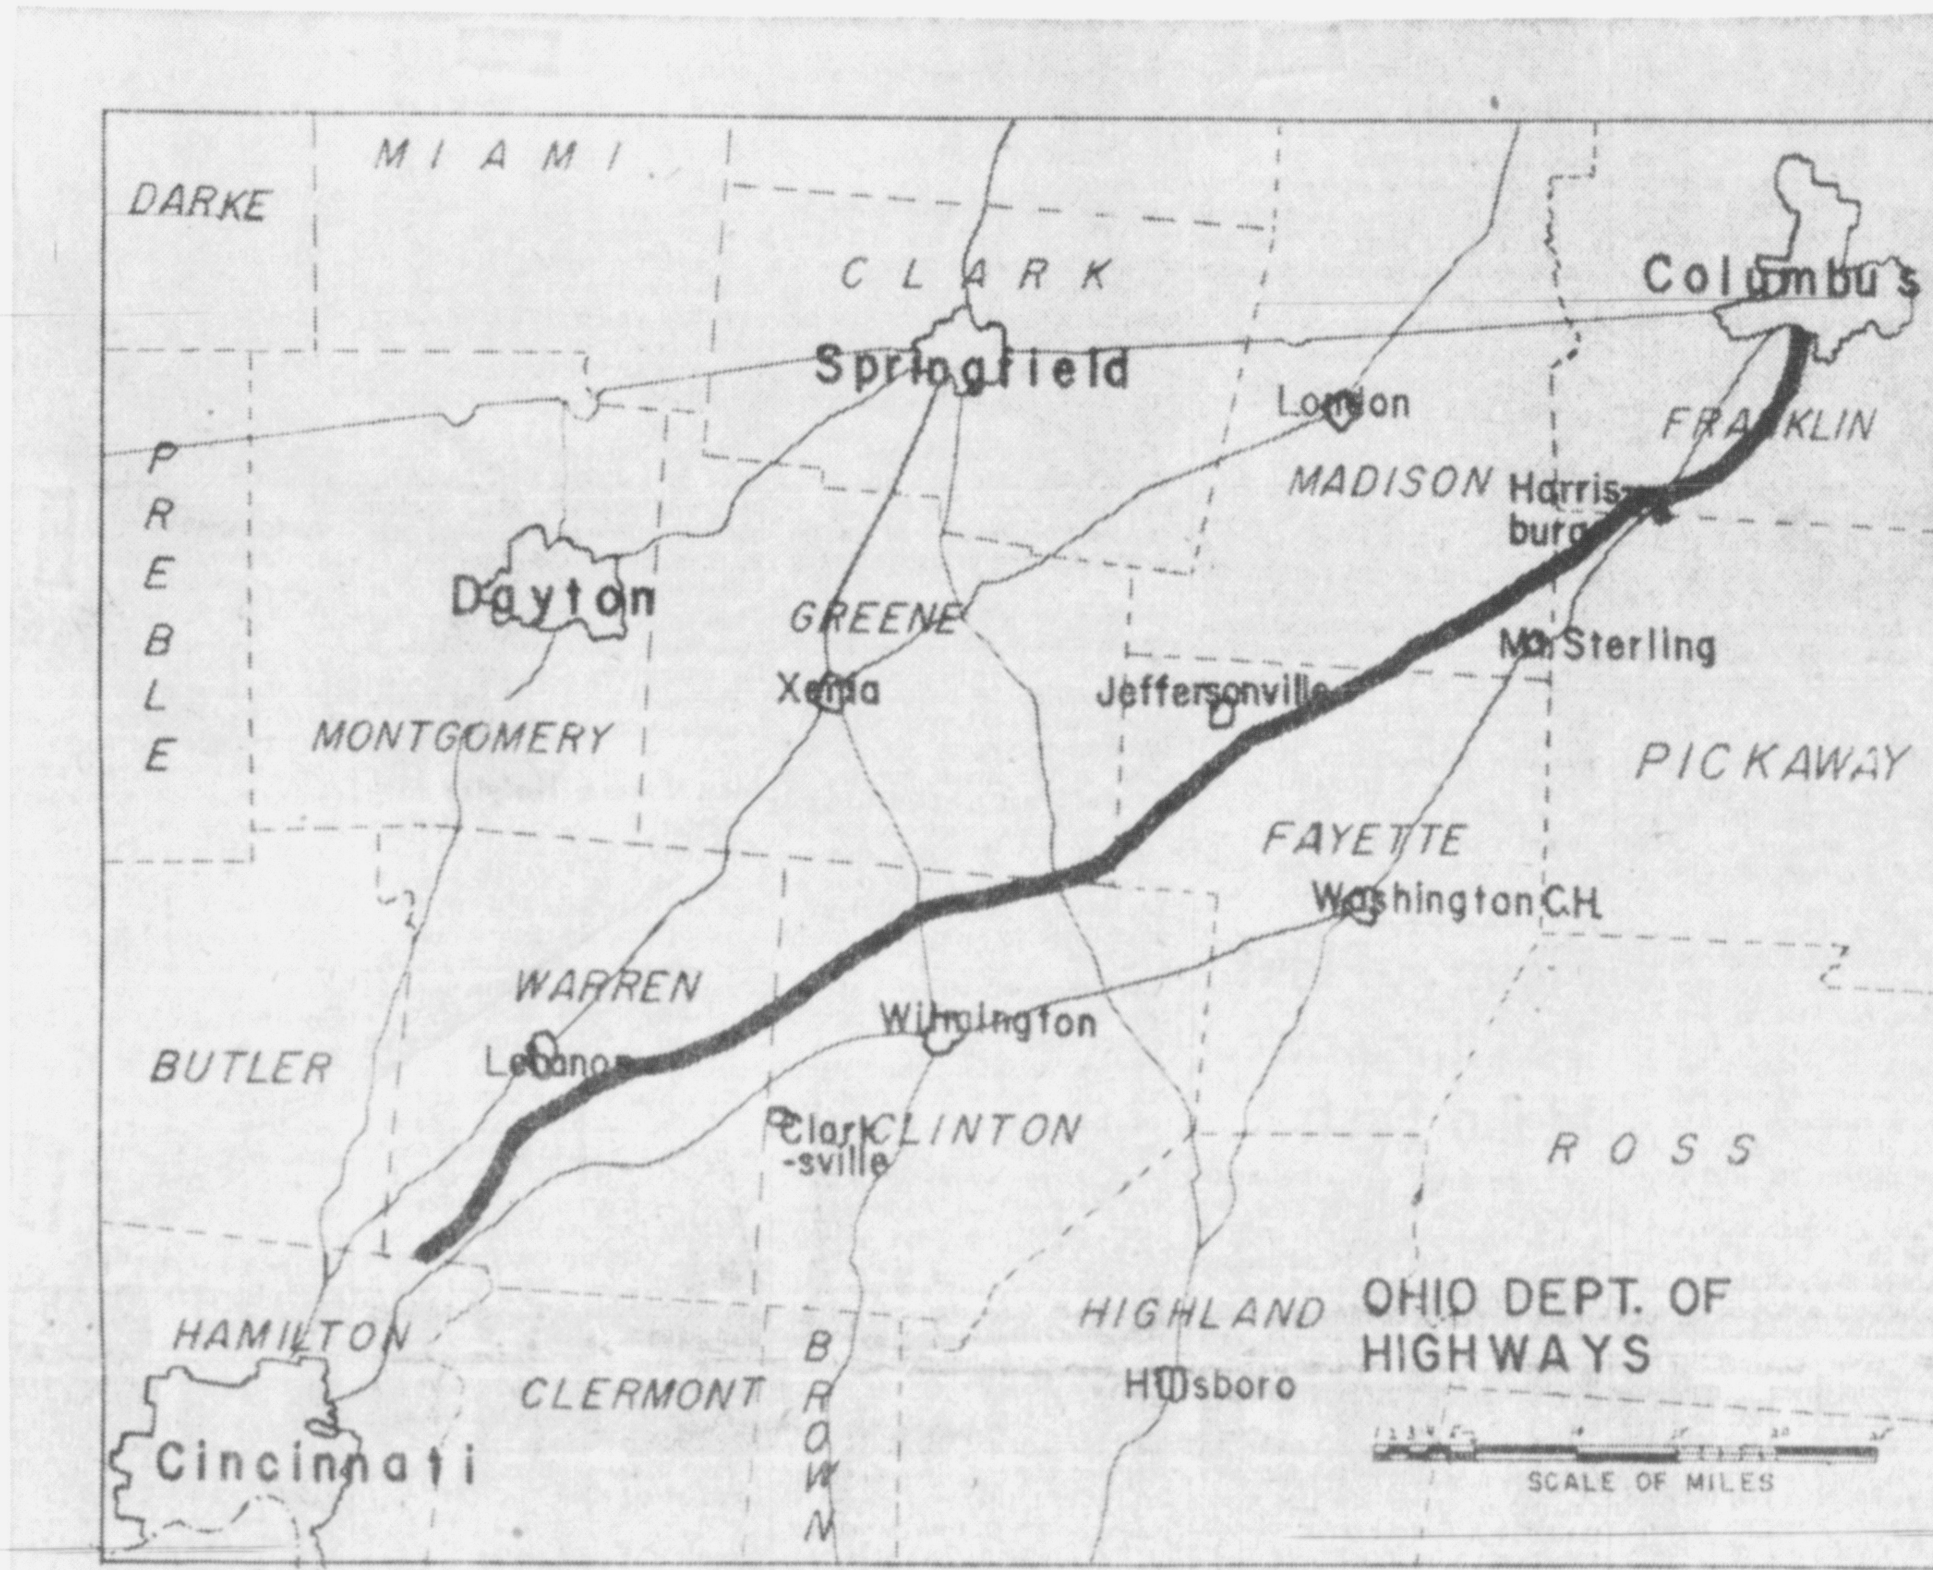

COLUMBUS — Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb of Circleville today submitted his resignation to Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The governor's office said Lamb resigned to seek election as municipal judge at a higher salary.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe has ruled that the pay of a municipal court judge may not be increased during his existing term as judge.

Consulting Engineers Agree on General Location

Urge 'Up-County' Freeway Route

A preliminary draft of the first engineering reports on route locations for the Cincinnati-Columbus leg of the Cincinnati-Connecticut Freeway (State Route 1) have been received by the Ohio Department of Highways from the consulting engineer firm, Louis Berger & Associates of Harrisburg, Pa., and Elmer S. Barrett Associates, Chillicothe.

Several possible routes for this section of the freeway have been studied and analyzed by the consultants, and both of them agree on recommending one approximate route.

It would run from the Columbus expressway system southwestwards passing close by Harrisburg on the north and west, cutting across the extreme northwestern corner of Pickaway County, passing about three miles northwest of Mt. Sterling and nine miles northwest of Washington C. H. (and just southeast of Jeffersonville), cutting across the extreme southeastern corner of Greene County, and crossing State Route 72 at about the Clinton-Greene county line.

From there the approximate route would continue southwestward, passing about four miles northwest of Wilmington, about three miles northwest of Clarksville, about two miles southeast of Lebanon, and crossing into Hamilton County about a mile west of State Route 3. From there another engineering study would take the route on into the Cincinnati-Cincinnati-Highway

"THIS ROUTE STUDY does not set forth any exact line, design features such as interchanges, or etc.," points out P. E. Masteter, department's deputy director for design and construction. "It is only (Please turn to page two)

West's Financiers Hear Ike's Plea

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today appealed to the free world's finance ministers to fight inflation, lest global prosperity turn into a depression "and all the evil consequences we know so well."

Eisenhower addressed the opening session of the boards of governors of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, convening here for their 12th annual meeting with delegates from 64 nations.

He warned that inflation has become "a worldwide phenomenon today," and must be recognized as "a threat to sound economic growth."

The problem calls for wise and courageous leadership in every country the President declared, stating:

"It is a call that must be heeded, for inflation not only destroys the savings, pensions and insurance policies of the frugal, its aftermath can be a depression which saps the strength and vigor of government, of industry and of people."

THE PRESIDENT had interrupted his Newport, R. I., vacation to address the assembly of some 500 bank governors, alternates, delegates and observers. He received warm applause.

Eisenhower called on the financial leaders to consider carefully whether their programs of expansion and investment are too large. "We cannot successfully put a continued overload on our resources," he cautioned. "Rising prices have confirmed this economic axiom."

He went on: "For those of us charged with public responsibilities this means conscientious efforts to limit government demands on the economy, a difficult task in this day of heavy defense outlays."

In an oblique reference to the problem of rising wage costs, blamed by some in this country for persistent inflationary pressures, Eisenhower suggested that the nations consider whether the sums they pay themselves are rising in step with the goods and services they produce. If so, he said, there is no impetus to rising prices.

"But if our efficiency does not increase, if our productivity does not rise, we as nations will tend to fall into the costly error of overpaying ourselves for the work we do," he said.

"Along that road, as so many countries are again discovering, lies the spur to further inflation."

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, in another speech to the international financial leaders, also called for concerted efforts to quell inflationary pressures. He said these now "seem worldwide."

2 More Questioned In Cop-Shooting

LEBANON — Two men arrested near Berea, Ky., will undergo further questioning about a police station shooting at nearby South Lebanon, Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite says.

The two are Robert Noe, 28, and Arnold G. Willoughby, 35. Noe's brother, Joe, 41, has been accused of shooting with intent to kill. Asst. Police Chief Caesar Sparks was wounded in the foot Wednesday by a shot from a passing car as he stood in the doorway of police headquarters.

Robert Noe and Willoughby fled after the shooting but were arrested in Berea Saturday and returned here.

Woman Electrocuted

ATASCADERO, Calif. — Mrs. Emmaline Kuykendall, 32-year-old mother of seven, was electrocuted while drinking coffee with her husband Bill. Her leg became entangled in a table lamp cord.

New Parley Called in Phone Strike

CLEVELAND — A strike of 18,500 Ohio Bell Telephone Co. employees has entered its second week. Negotiations aimed at breaking a deadlock over a new contract were scheduled for today between the company and the Communications Workers of America.

There were afternoon and night sessions Sunday, adding up to about four hours which a union spokesman said were spent "in a thorough exploration of the issues."

The company and union did not elaborate, other than to agree that "there was no significant progress."

Some bitterness apparent in statements from the two sides after negotiations were broken off Friday seems to have dissipated.

Ohio's 1958 Governor Race Beginning To Draw Interest

CLEVELAND — Toledo's Mike DiSalle said here Sunday that the man who beat him for governor last year has "demonstrated that maybe the job was a little too big for him."

DiSalle spoke at a Democratic steer roast where considerable attention was paid to the administration of Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

"He hasn't made much dirt yet," DiSalle said of the governor's highway program. And Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman told an audience of 5,000 that the state roadbuilding program was "way behind schedule."

Coleman said in the Democrats' campaign to displace O'Neill next year, the governor is "extremely vulnerable" on his record so far.

"He makes his decisions at 12 o'clock and then calls a policy group together and reverses his decisions at 1 o'clock," Coleman said.

DiSalle didn't say whether he would offer himself as the Democratic candidate against O'Neill again next year, but he indicated he is giving the matter thought. He said he certainly would be active in the next campaign but whether he would run again would depend on many things.

Several things have happened politically in this "off-year" which have a bearing on next year's gubernatorial campaign.

First, the departure of Frank Lausche from the state capital to Washington as a U.S. senator removed from the Ohio scene the Democratic party's No. 1 independent.

Then Sunday at the steer roast Cleveland's No. 1 Democratic party independent, Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, appeared and spoke briefly. It was the first time since he took office in 1953 that the mayor has attended such a function by the Cuyahoga County organization.

Earlier this summer several key leaders of the party regularly expressed a desire to put an end to long standing differences between the independent Democrats in power at city hall and the regular county organization. The rift goes back more than a decade to when Lausche was mayor and county Chairman Ray Miller was openly at odds with him.

The third development with a bearing on the next gubernatorial campaign occurred here last month at the Republicans' big outing at former U.S. Sen. George H. Bender's suburban estate. There Bender's name was noised about as a possible opponent of O'Neill in a Republican primary. Bender would neither confirm nor deny that he would try for the GOP nomination as governor.

School Chiefs Withdraw 8 After Violence

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Little Rock High School officials withdrew the eight Negro students who entered Central High School today.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann radioed an announcement at 12 o'clock (CST): "Tell the crowd the Negroes have been removed from Central High School."

The radio announcement was sent to police officers at the scene. The eight Negro students were able to slip into the high school when about five Negro adults drew the attention of a large crowd of angry whites. The pupils slipped in a side door of the school. Some of them were attacked inside the building by white students.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas division of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said four Negro adults who were attacked before the students entered were news papermen.

SHE DENIED they deliberately created the diversionary move to distract the crowd's attention.

As the morning wore along, boys and adults kept pressing closer, infiltrating the barricades. The police turned back six or seven youths who came too close to their lines.

A man said, "What we need is some dynamite."

"They got in, but now they got to get out," another rejoined.

Teen-agers in two cars kept circling around the outskirts of the crowd, yelling, "Which way did the niggers go?"

The well-executed plan of diversion held the white crowd's attention long enough for the Negro students to be driven onto the campus and whisked through the side door.

One of the Negro adults was knocked down, beaten and kicked. Women screamed and men cursed and tried to breach the line of officers thrown around the huge school ground.

The violent action started just as the bell rang for classes to begin at 8:45 a.m. The crowd had been kept in hand and was fairly docile up to that time.

Suddenly at the end of the tree-lined block in front of the school building about five Negroes appeared and the crowd rushed toward them and a fight started.

AS POLICE swarmed toward this action the Negro students made their move and got inside.

About 20 white men tried to break through when one of them shouted "Let's get them." But officers swinging billy clubs knocked the man down and grabbed a second. The line held.

State police and ambulances arrived about the same time and (Please turn to page two)

New Red China Defeat Seen

U.N. Membership Move Heads for Sidetrack

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The General Assembly is expected today to sidetrack until next year the question of seating Communist China in the U.N.

Delegates generally foresaw that the Assembly would adopt a U. S. resolution late today on recommendation of its Steering Committee.

Indian sources conceded that India lacked the votes to get the Chinese representation issue on the agenda.

Nationalist Chinese Delegate K. W. Yu told a reporter his delegation calculated perhaps 50 delegations will vote for the U. S. The vote last year was 47-24 with 8 abstentions.

The U. S. resolution, which cleared the Steering Committee 9-4 with 2 abstentions Thursday rejected the Indian request. It said the Assembly would consider no proposals this session to oust Nationalist or seat Communist China.

John Diefenbaker, Canada's new prime minister, chose today's assembly meeting as the occasion for his first major foreign policy speech.

Tropical Storms Heads for Florida

MIAMI, Fla. — Tropical storm Freda moved slowly westward over the Atlantic today toward Florida, some 500 miles away.

The season's sixth tropical storm was traveling 10 miles an hour and showed signs of gathering strength. If it continued west at 10 miles an hour it would hit Florida's southeast coast Wednesday morning.

Today's advisory said little change in direction or rate of forward movement was expected in the next 12 hours. The Weather Bureau in Miami said there was no immediate cause for alarm.

Farm Families Hosts to Plowmen Sunday

The world's best plowmen and officials of the World's Plowing Contest, arrived at the Fairground here just after noon Sunday to be guests of farm families for Sunday dinner. Fifty-five in number (some members had overslept in Cincinnati and others had gone their separate ways to visit with relatives,) they visited the Frank Sollars pig hatchery and the Emerson Marting Hereford farm before joining their individual host for their first home cooked meals since leaving their foreign homes weeks ago.

Some were guests of Farm Bureau Council groups.

Almost without exception, everyone was tired. All had had a rugged two weeks in the United States in connection with the World's Plowing Contests at Peebles. But all were working farmers and they weren't too tired to admire "good livestock, a good field of corn or soybeans or a well cared for barnyard. Nor were any of them too tired to ask questions when they saw something that appeared new to them.

A UNIVERSAL complaint was that they hadn't had enough time to spend with farmers looking at farming practices. "No time to stay," they all said, "there is too much to do at home."

Not enough time remained after their Sunday dinners for the plowmen. (Please turn to Page Ten)

Commissioners Hear Reports On Brucellosis

Hospital Payments In Hardship Cases Also Discussed

County Agricultural Agent W. W. Montgomery and Associate Agent Phil Grover made a verbal report to the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, at their meeting Monday, on the brucellosis program in Fayette County. They said the first program, started last November, had been completed satisfactorily.

They also reported that the followup program, under the new law, will mean in effect, a second milk ring test which starts in this county Tuesday. It is to be finished by Oct. 1.

So far as this county is concerned, the county agents reported, there is sufficient money already provided for completing this year's brucellosis tests. The new law, however, provides for some additional procedure which may require a small amount of local money for next year, in addition to what already has been agreed upon, it was said.

THE COMMISSIONERS received a letter from the state County Commissioners Assn. Monday, calling attention to the recent joint meeting of representatives of county commissioners, county welfare authorities, auditors, state welfare officials and representatives of the Ohio Citizens' Council with Gov. O'Neill regarding the necessity for the state to increase hospital payments from 10 days to 15 days for hardship cases in the aid-for-aged program.

An effort is being made by the state to follow recommendations made at this meeting, on a trial basis, the five-day increase during the next three months.

Suggestions have been made that counties, if possible, supplement this program. The Fayette County commissioners said Monday that they regard this entirely as a state problem and see no need for any action here at this time.

Beyond these matters there was only normal routine business and approval of bills to occupy attention of the commissioners Monday.

The sergeants' wives and two other children were injured, the women seriously. They were taken to Mount Carmel Hospital in Columbus. All are from Ft. Riley, Kan.

Also injured were two women and two children, all unidentified. Sheriff's deputies said the car smashed into a large stone pillar at the entrance to the Pleasant Hills Cemetery, just outside of the west corporation line of West Jefferson.

a preliminary study of an approximate location.

The Highway Department's next step is for them and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads to study the consultants' report and, if they agree that the recommendations therein are sound, to instruct the consultants to proceed with a more detailed study of the recommended line. This study will result in a "design report" which Mashter estimates might be ready sometime "the first part of 1958."

The design report, in turn, will be studied by the Highway Department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and either rejected, approved or modified. "Only at that time will the department actually be able to announce a tentative route alignment," according to Highway Chief Charles M. Noble, "and we will then schedule a public hearing for interested citizens to voice their opinions and comments. After studying the transcript of that hearing we would then make a definite decision on the route."

NOBLE SAID that it is not possible to estimate the date that construction can be started on the Cincinnati-Columbus leg. It is not on the highway program for this biennium, he pointed out, and "to estimate a construction date beyond this biennium, at this point, would be nothing but wild guessing."

The date of construction would depend on many factors including objections to the routing, possible extra restudies, available money, and many other factors, he said.

The preliminary study indicated that the route, from Harrisburg (at the south Franklin county line) to the Hamilton County line would cost about $85,290,000. The study also indicates that the new freeway route (between Columbus and Cincinnati, and intermediate points) would save Ohio motorists using it approximately $5,670,000 per year in driving costs.

Relative construction costs, motorists' driving costs, lower probable accident rates, driver convenience and comfort, local community benefits and defense advantages were all taken into consideration by the consulting engineers in their study and these first preliminary recommendations on this part of Ohio's interstate system.

Piqua A-Plant To Hinge on Idaho Tests

WASHINGTON (P)—Scientists have opened a series of tests that will determine whether it will be advisable to build a $4 million atomic reactor at Piqua, Ohio.

The experiments, an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said today, are being conducted at the AFC's National Reactor Testing Station in Arco, Idaho.

There, the spokesman said, an organic moderated reactor was put into operation just last week, the first nuclear reactor of this type to start functioning.

This is the same type reactor that Piqua has been negotiating to build as a supplement to its conventional, municipally owned electric power plant.

"This experiment in Idaho," an AEC aide said, "will establish basic technical data that will tell scientists whether it is worth developing further."

Thus, he said, if the Idaho reactor proves to be sufficiently economical, negotiations for a Piqua reactor can proceed.

"On the other hand," he said, "if this thing should pan out to be a bust, of course Piqua wouldn't want to go ahead with it."

Under present legislation, Piqua authorities plan to have a 12,500-kilowatt atomic reactor built at an estimated $11.7 million by Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc.

But the project will be heavily subsidized, since producing steam with atomic fuel is more costly than with coal.

Brain Injury Cited In Misbehaving Tots

DALLAS (P)—Dr. Fred M. Taylor, a Houston child specialist, said Sunday parents should be sure unruly children don't have subtle brain injuries before they reach for the rod.

"An outstanding inability to be quiet, impulsive loudness, short attention span and striking shifts are typical behavior manifestations of the injured children," he said, adding that the injury could have been inflicted by a bad trauma in the head, premature birth, or a brain infection.

Violence Breaks Out

went into action against fights that had "broken out all over the place."

White students started filing out shortly after the Negro students entered and someone shouted: "Come on out. Don't stay in there with the niggers."

Students coming out of the high school said three of the Negro boys who entered school had "blood on their clothing" and fights had broken out inside the school building.

The students told reporters the Negroes were chased through the halls when classes changed and were attacked by other students.

The initial violence outside the school was a frightening sight.

The diversionary fight, started when one white man jumped on a Negro's back and hit him and kicked him. The Negro had a small camera.

The calm of the crowd was broken when a woman saw the diversionary group and shouted: "Niggers are coming."

Another white woman, screaming and crying, had to be dragged to a patrol car. Apparently she was not arrested, but ordered to go home.

An Arkansas Democrat newspaper photographer returning to his office said he witnessed an "extremely brutal" beating of a Negro man.

He said the man had accompanied a Negro youth apparently a student who did not enter.

The youth managed to flee, but white men began beating the Negro man with their fists and kicking him. He got up several times and was again knocked and kicked down.

Finally, someone shouted: "Don't kill him give him three minutes."

At this, the mauling of the Negro stopped and he hurried away.

ABOUT 200 spectators and 50 newsmen were on the scene at 7:30 a.m., but 50 troopers, scheduled to assist city police in maintaining order, had not appeared.

Crowds numbering up to 700 milled in the street during the first week that National Guard troops were deployed around the 2,000-pupil school. Negro students made only one attempt to enter on Sept. 4 when nine of them were turned back by National Guard rifles.

The orders of officers at the scene today were not to prevent Negroes from entering.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann said city police had been instructed to permit Negro students to enter and State Police Lieut. Mack Thompson said troops would act "as peace officers, preserving peace and order."

Sunday, Gov. Orval Faubus, in Sea Island, Ga., said, "I am apprehensive of disorder and violence. I hope calmness and tolerance will prevail."

Faubus, who brought on the clash between the U. S. government and the state by calling out the National Guard to block the Negroes, was in Georgia attending the Southern Governors Conference.

He said it is always possible that he will again station guardsmen around Central High School.

Last Friday a U. S. District Court put Faubus under injunction not to interfere further with the enrollment of Negroes here.

The mayor issued a formal statement as the hour for opening classes approached. He said: "A strong police detail will be on hand at Little Rock Central High School to deal with any effort by mob leaders to breach the peace of this community."

But Mrs. Margaret Jackson, vice president of the League of Central High Mothers said: "We hope to have a big demonstration to show that the people of Little Rock are still against integration."

New Phone Parley

Saturday was the first day in 18 consecutive days in which there were no talks. When the bargaining resumed Sunday, Federal Conciliator Thomas W. Robertson observed: "Everyone appears more rested."

The union has insisted on a one-year contract and rejected a company offer of raises of from $2 to $4.50 a week over that period. Ohio Bell has twice suggested a 15-month contract with raises of from $2.50 to $5—and the second time included in the offer some concession on geographical differentials.

These differentials, the union has said, are an important issue in many of the 45 cities where Ohio Bell operates.

Commissioners Hear Reports On Brucellosis

Hospital Payments In Hardship Cases Also Discussed

County Agricultural Agent W. W. Montgomery and Associate Agent Phil Grover made a verbal report to the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, at their meeting Monday, on the brucellosis program in Fayette County. They said the first program, started last November, had been completed satisfactorily.

They also reported that the follow-up program, under the new law, will mean in effect, a second milk ring test which starts in this county Tuesday. It is to be finished by Oct. 1.

So far as this county is concerned, the county agents reported, there is sufficient money already provided for completing this year's brucellosis tests. The new law, however, provides for some additional procedure which may require a small amount of local money for next year, in addition to what already has been agreed upon, it was said.

THE COMMISSIONERS received a letter from the state County Commissioners Assn. Monday, calling attention to the recent joint meeting of representatives of county commissioners, county welfare authorities, auditors, state welfare officials and representatives of the Ohio Citizens' Council with Gov. O'Neill regarding the necessity for the state to increase hospital payments from 10 days to 15 days for hardship cases in the aid-for-aged program.

An effort is being made by the state to follow recommendations made at this meeting, on a trial basis, the five-day increase during the next three months.

Suggestions have been made that counties, if possible, supplement this program.

The Fayette County commissioners said Monday that they regard this entirely as a state problem and see no need for any action here at this time.

Beyond these matters there was only normal routine business and approval of bills to occupy attention of the commissioners Monday.

3 Persons Die In Auto Crash Near London

LONDON, Ohio (P)—Two Army sergeants and a young boy were killed today, and four other persons hurt when an auto struck a cemetery entrance on U.S. 40 west of West Jefferson.

The Madison County sheriff's office reported a tire on the car apparently blew out causing the car to leave the road.

Authorities identified the dead as Sgt. Sanchez Fabio Visen, 29; his son, Collazo, 3, and Sgt. Ricardo Rivera-Rivera, 25.

The sergeants' wives and two other children were injured, the women seriously. They were taken to Mount Carmel Hospital in Columbus. All are from Ft. Riley, Kan.

Also injured were two women and two children, all unidentified. Sheriff's deputies said the car smashed into a large stone pillar at the entrance to the Pleasant Hills Cemetery, just outside of the west corporation line of West Jefferson.

Officers said Sgt. Visen belonged to Company B of the 16th Infantry Regiment, and Sgt. Rivera-Rivera was a member of the administration company of the 1st Infantry Division at Fort Riley.

Piqua A-Plant To Hinge on Idaho Tests

WASHINGTON (P)—Scientists have opened a series of tests that will determine whether it will be advisable to build a $4 million atomic reactor at Piqua, Ohio.

The experiment, an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said today, are being conducted at the AEC's National Reactor Testing Station in Arco, Idaho.

There, the spokesman said, an organic moderated reactor was put into operation just last week, the first nuclear reactor of this type to start functioning.

This is the same type reactor that Piqua has been negotiating to build as a supplement to its conventional, municipally-owned electric power plant.

"This experiment in Idaho," an AEC aide said, "will establish basic technical data that will tell scientists whether it is worth developing further."

Thus, he said, if the Idaho reactor proves to be sufficiently economical, negotiations for a Piqua reactor can proceed.

"On the other hand," he said, "if this thing should pan out to be a bust, of course Piqua wouldn't want to go ahead with it."

Under present legislation, Piqua authorities plan to have a 12,500-kilowatt atomic reactor built at an estimated $11.7 million by Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc.

But the project will be heavily subsidized, since producing steam with atomic fuel is more costly than with coal.

Brain Injury Cited In Misbehaving Tot

DALLAS (P)—Dr. Fred M. Taylor, a Houston child specialist, said Sunday parents should be sure unruly children don't have subtle brain injuries before they reach for the rod.

"An outstanding inability to be quiet, impulsive loudness, short attention span and striking shifts are typical behavior manifestations of the injured children," he said, adding that the injury could have been inflicted by a bad trauma in the head, premature birth, or a brain infection.

New Monarch Appears

OSLO, Norway (P)—King Olav V made his first public appearance Sunday as Norway's new monarch. He attended a memorial service for his father, Haakon VII, who died Saturday at 85.

Violence Breaks Out

went into action against fights that had "broken out all over the place."

White students started filing out shortly after the Negro students entered and someone shouted: "Come on out. Don't stay in there with the niggers."

Students coming out of the high school said three of the Negro boys who entered school had "blood on their clothing" and fights had broken out inside the school building.

The students told reporters the Negroes were chased through the halls when classes changed and were attacked by other students.

The initial violence outside the school was a frightening sight.

The diversionary fight started when one white man jumped on a Negro's back and hit him and kicked him. The Negro had a small camera.

The calm of the crowd was broken when a woman saw the diversionary group and shouted: "Niggers are coming!"

Another white woman, screaming and crying, had to be dragged to a patrol car. Apparently she was not arrested, but ordered to go home.

An Arkansas Democrat newspaper photographer returning to his office said he witnessed an "extremely brutal" beating of a Negro man.

He said the man had accompanied a Negro youth apparently a student who did not enter.

The youth managed to flee, but while men began beating the Negro man with their fists and kicking him. He got up several times and was again knocked and kicked down.

Finally, someone shouted:

"Don't kill him give him three minutes."

At this, the mauling of the Negro stopped and he hurried away.

ABOUT 200 spectators and 50 newsmen were on the scene at 7:30 a.m., but 50 troopers, scheduled to assist city police in maintaining order, had not appeared.

Crowds numbering up to 700 milled in the street during the first week that National Guard troops were deployed around the 2,000-pupil school. Negro students made only one attempt to enter on Sept. 4 when nine of them were turned back by National Guard rifles.

The orders of officers at the scene today were not to prevent Negroes from entering.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann said city police had been instructed to permit Negro students to enter and State Police Lieut. Mack Thompson said troopers would act "as peace officers, preserving peace and order."

Sunday, Gov. Orval Faubus, in Sea Island, Ga., said, "I am apprehensive of disorder and violence. I hope calmness and tolerance will prevail."

Faubus, who brought on the clash between the U. S. government and the state by calling out the National Guard to block the Negroes, was in Georgia attending the Southern Governors Conference.

He said it is always possible that he will again station guardsmen around Central High School.

Last Friday a U. S. District Court put Faubus under injunction not to interfere further with the enrollment of Negroes here.

The mayor issued a formal statement as the hour for opening classes approached. He said: "A strong police detail will be on hand at Little Rock Central High School to deal with any effort by mob leaders to breach the peace of this community."

But Mrs. Margaret Jackson, vice president of the League of Central High Mothers said: "We hope to have a big demonstration to show that the people of Little Rock are still against integration."

Saturday was the first day in 18 consecutive days in which there were no talks. When the bargaining resumed Sunday, Federal Conciliator Thomas W. Robertson observed: "Everyone appears more rested."

The union has insisted on a one-year contract and rejected a company offer of raises of from $2 to $4.50 a week over that period. Ohio Bell has twice suggested a 15-month contract with raises of from $2.50 to $5—and the second time included in the offer some concession on geographical differentials.

These differentials, the union has said, are an important issue in many of the 45 cities where Ohio Bell operates.

Savings Bond Sales Hit $307,619 Here

August sales of Series E and H savings bonds in Ohio reached 26 1/2 million dollars for an eight month total of nearly 212 millions.

Sales in Fayette County for August were $47,558 for an eight-month total of $307,619.

Nationwide sales of the Series E Savings Bond totaled $345 million dollars for the second highest August sales since the end of World War II. In Ohio, as throughout the nation, the sales of the two smaller E Bond denominations, $25 and $50, set a new all-time record.

"With more than 85 per cent of Ohio companies operating the payroll savings plan," R. H. Olinger, chairman of the Fayette County Savings Bonds Committee, said "we can easily see why the two smaller E Bonds are increasing in popularity. In many instances bond holders are using their bond savings to make major purchases, such as the down payment on a new home or providing higher education for their children."

Continuing to lead the state in percentage of quota attained are Monroe, Wyandot, Union, Morgan and Auglaize Counties. Among industrial counties, Mahon County has jumped far out into the lead.

Blame "Royal" and "Bureaucratic" Thievery

There can be no question but that an increasing number of people in Fayette County are undergoing the same unhappy financial experience as are hundreds of thousands of families and individuals in nearly every other section of our country.

The receding buying power of the dollar is upsetting the pension and the saving pattern all over the nation.

With the ranks of retired people steadily increasing in numbers and in voting power, their demands for some form of relief from this situation is gradually becoming a more potent political factor as the years pass.

This by no means has reference to the group of people who make a profession of having relief doled out to them, year after year, by relief agencies, rather than to actually try to earn their living.

It does refer, however, to the fast growing number of hard-pressed people everywhere who are unwilling victims of inflation despite their having done reasonable planning a few years ago for their future.

Here are a few of the things that inflation is doing:

It robs the worker of his pension security.

It robs the man who has invested in government securities as part of his savings.

It robs the dependents of veterans who depend upon insurance.

It robs widows and children of all people who have tried to provide for their families through insurance.

It makes Social Security a fraud.

It cuts down the amount of goods that can be purchased by the growing army of old people.

It robs everyone who is dependent upon a fixed income from investments.

In the face of all this it is hard to understand how some members of Congress, and many other government officials, persist in going merrily along deflating the dollar through federal, and often state, extravagance and waste.

With these officials of government, operating just as recklessly and just as selfishly, are armies of entrenched bureaucrats in public positions who feel secure in their own jobs and are little concerned as to how much of the taxpayers' money they keep urging for spending.

This process is being accurately termed "Royal Thievery." To this term could well be added "Bureaucratic Thievery."

All this can become a selfish road to disaster for everybody.

Keys to Success: Work, Daring

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — You may need a lofty intelligence to get rich on a television quiz show, but you don't have to be a mental giant to succeed in business.

Sweat and boldness are the pay-off qualities there. So says Erich Hirschfeld, a onetime immigrant who at 43 has become head of the world's largest camera store.

"Business is the most exciting thing in the world," said Hirschfeld, "and to succeed in it you should live it every hour you're awake. Intelligence is not so important as endless hard work and daring."

"You must take action even if the action turns out to be a mistake. At least by the mistake you have learned something. You must always be willing to take a chance. You must always be daring to keep life exciting."

Hirschfeld is in a position to know. A short dark smiling man with a Napoleonic self-confidence and the effervescent temperament of an operator, he has never let his own life become commonplace.

In 1938 he bade farewell to Nazi Germany and landed here virtually penniless.

"I knew so little English I couldn't even buy a stamp," recalled Hirschfeld, whose accent now would baffle a philologist, since it is a heady mixture of German, English, Spanish and Portuguese.

Except for a stroke of good luck he might today be a Broadway head waiter. The good luck consisted of the fact that his cousin, a restaurant owner to whom he applied for a job couldn't give him one.

Erich went to work for a new tire firm and in a few years his ceaseless industry won him a partnership. Looking around for new worlds to conquer, he decided to export cameras to South America. He went to the late Charles G. Willoughby, an Ohio farm boy who had become the tycoon of "camera row" here, and placed a $30,000 order.

Impressed by his daring, Willoughby invited Hirschfeld into his own firm to head its export division. Erich soon worked it up to a multi-million dollar annual volume. Two months ago he was elected president of Willoughby's, which is to photograph fans who like to collect fresh jewelry.

His clientele ranges from teenage kids to Emperor Haile Selassie, from actor Rex Harrison to the King of Siam, from Greta Garbo to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Those Unexpended Balances

The national debt amounts to $273,496,000,000; the debt ceiling authorized by Congress is $275,000,000,000.

As the debt increases, the value of the dollar is bound to decrease. Our people tend to ignore the relationship of the debt to the value of the dollar because to a sufficient degree our manufactures have been able to compensate for it.

On the other hand, it is becoming clear even to Washington bureaucrats that taxes cannot be overtly raised without risking political and social disturbances. However, taxes can be raised secretly by keeping the same rate but decreasing the value of the dollar.

This device has been used in recent years and is one of the many causes for the present inflation. It is what the medieval kings did when they clipped coins around the edges, getting some silver but not permitting the coin to appear to be too small.

Approximately 70 billion dollars have been accumulated in the Treasury under the heading of unexpended balances which gives the administration an enormous nest egg, the legality of which could be questioned by the taxpayers. This unexpended balance, in a measure, makes the executive branch of the government free from the constitutional power of Congress to control the purse, a power which is unquestioned.

The amount accumulated could continue to grow until the executive could, for a year or more, govern altogether without authorized appropriations. This is a perilous situation from the standpoint of constitutional government.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia makes the point that whereas Congress appropriated $66,800,000,000 for the current fiscal year, the carry-over of unexpended balances actually places at the executive's disposal approximately 137 billion dollars which, if the accounting system were proper and honest would be the amount of the 1957-58 budget.

Or, if our system were absolutely correct, we would, this year, expend our unexpended balance for which we have already paid taxes and therefore we would not be taxed at all this year.

The expenditure of such a sum by this or any government is phenomenal and beyond necessity. Were we in an actual fighting war, it is doubtful if we would need such sums.

The highest expenditure reached during World War II was $98,416,000,000 in 1945. What can be called the last peacetime expenditure was in 1914, amounting to $13,262,000,000. In that year, the national debt amounted to $48,961,000,000 compared to the current $273,496,000,000.

It is important to note the correct amount available to the executive for expenditures during the fiscal year 1957-58, namely about 137 billions. It will not be known until the year is over exactly how much has been expended, whether all of it is gone or whether the unexpended balances have been increased, giving the executive an even larger carry-over. We shall also not readily know how much was wasted and whether the waste was deliberate.

It is unfortunate that in this escapist era, the trend is not to pay too much attention to the Constitution which has managed to survive similar periods of unconcern with public questions. The Constitution definitely and unmistakably gives authority over the public purse to Congress, providing that all appropriations bills arise in the House of Representatives.

The founding fathers were always afraid of a powerful executive, having rebelled against a mad despotic king. It was their intention that the representatives of the people should control the federal purse.

It was never their intention that the executive should ask for more than is required and that such excessive sums accumulate until they amount to at least one year's cost of government operations.

As a matter of practicality if Congress had made no appropriations, the executive would have had enough money on hand from the unexpended balances to operate for this fiscal year—a definitely unconstitutional and dangerous condition in a free country.

The Republicans were critical of unexpended balances during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, but their criticisms ceased when they got into office. In fact, the unexpended balances are now larger than they ever were and without the justifiable excuse of war or depression.

Apparently Sen. Byrd is carrying on this fight without too encouraging assistance from either the executive or many of his colleagues in the Senate. Naturally, politicians do not want to kill Santa Claus and that is exactly what would happen if the government seriously cut its cost of operations and followed Sen. Byrd's ideas of economy.

Diet and Health

Methods of Locating Cause of Allergy

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Skin tests have some value in determining whether a person is allergic to specific foods, although some doctors argue the point.

But since tests require only a couple of hours, and alternative procedures take several weeks, they are at least worth a try in many cases.

In the event your doctor does not recommend skin tests or these measures fail to produce the desired results, then there are two ways to determine just what foods may be bothering you.

The elimination diet probably is the most widely used method. While there are numerous variations, there are only two basic types.

One is a rather strict diet comprising only four or five foods which generally do not cause allergic reactions. Peas, rice, lamb and eggs are examples.

The other type of diet is not quite as rigid. In this, you can eat just about anything except those foods which are most likely to cause an allergy, such as eggs, milk, wheat and most cereals.

If your customary allergic symptoms do not appear within four days to a week, you can pretty safely assume that they are caused by the foods which have been eliminated from your diet. Then, one by one, other foods are added.

When an allergic reaction occurs, it is apparent, in most cases, that the most recently added food is the offender.

Of course if the original diets do not relieve the allergy then we can assume that one or more of these foods are trouble-makers. In that case, you'll have to switch to another basic diet and begin gradually adding the foods on your original diet.

Generally, doctors recommend that three trials be given to suspected foods, unless the severity of the allergic attack prohibits it.

An even more simple method of tracing foods to which you may be allergic is to keep a diary.

After each meal jot down everything you have eaten and drunk. Note also the time any allergic symptoms begin. This should give you some idea of what food or beverage is causing the trouble.

Faubus is the play-it-close-to-your-chest type—not that he can't take dramatic action when he thinks the time is ripe. He did this in calling out National Guard troops to halt integration and-or preserve order at Little Rock Central High School.

McCarthy, on the other hand, was usually one to act first and weigh the consequences later. He would rush in where Faubus might fear to tread.

Their basic common ground appears to be this:

A conviction on the part of each man that he—rather than the generally accepted processes of law and order—had the solution to a problem of headline-making proportions.

With McCarthy the problem was communism. His argument was that he, or his Senate committee, alone had the full power and authority to cope with Red subversion. Time and again McCarthy and his aides said even the FBI couldn't do the job alone.

Faubus' target is school integration—or, as he puts it, "overnight" integration.

The authorities in Little Rock thought they could carry out peaceably the small degree of integration planned in their city this fall. They thought it was their responsibility to do so. Faubus held otherwise and called out the troops.

Neither Faubus nor McCarthy went so far as to say "I am the law," though both have been accused of taking just that attitude.

Blame "Royal" and "Bureaucratic" Thievery

There can be no question but that an increasing number of people in Fayette County are undergoing the same unhappy financial experience as are hundreds of thousands of families and individuals in nearly every other section of our country.

The receding buying power of the dollar is upsetting the pension and the saving pattern all over the nation.

With the ranks of retired people steadily increasing in numbers and in voting power, their demands for some form of relief from this situation is gradually becoming a more potent political factor as the years pass.

This by no means has reference to the group of people who make a profession of having relief doled out to them, year after year, by relief agencies, rather than to actually try to earn their living.

It does refer, however, to the fast growing number of hard-pressed people everywhere who are unwilling victims of inflation despite their having done reasonable planning a few years ago for their future.

Here are a few of the things that inflation is doing:

It robs the worker of his pension security.

It robs the man who has invested in

It robs the dependents of veterans who depend upon insurance.

It robs widows and children of all people who have tried to provide for their families through insurance.

It robs everyone who is dependent upon a fixed income from investments.

MA PERKINS paid her first visit to St. Louis, and was taken to a show that featured a magician. Said performer covered a newspaper with a heavy cloth, then proceeded to read the headlines without making one error. Ma Perkins marched right out of the theater. "This is no place," she announced firmly, "for a decent woman in a thin calico dress."

When the above Ma Perkins went shopping she did the job thoroughly. In a shoe store, for instance, she kept trying on different models till the clerk had a fit.

Recent slogans of advertising men that make Bergen Evans turn white include, "Let's run up the flagpole and see who salutes," "Let's send this up on the local and see if it comes back express," and "Let's smear it on the cat and see if she licks it off."

Tax Cut Talk Being Boomed By Business

1958 Election Year
Seen Good Time To Influence Legislators

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Chances of tax cuts are being talked up again today even though Congress side-tracked the issue until next year and the federal budget is in delicate balance.

Business has a stake in any cuts — individual income, corporate income, excise taxes — and it has a stake in how the tax cuts are made.

Two of industry's pressing problems today (sales outlook and tight money) could help bring the cuts about. No one belittles the political fact that 1958 is an election year, but some of the hard facts of economic life may help too.

So business agencies are stepping up their drives to influence popular and congressional opinion now that congressmen are at home testing the voters' opinions.

The drives have a wide range. There's the National Assn. of Manufacturers' ambitious effort to induce Congress to adopt a five year plan of gradual reductions of income taxes, individual and corporate, to a top bracket of 35 per cent.

And today there's an analysis by the Tax Foundation of the flaws in the currently popular ways of apportioning high taxes by comparing them to the gross national product, national income, or personal income.

This non-profit research organization notes that the total of federal, state and local taxes came to a record high of 105 1/2 billion dollars last year. This was 25.5 per cent of the gross national product — the dollar value of all goods and services — which was 414 1/2 billion.

The foundation argues that it is unrealistic to use the gross national product because that includes capital consumption allowances (mainly depreciation charges). Deduct these and you get a net national product of 380 1/2 billion dollars and the tax take is 27.8 per cent of that.

Still another way of measuring the tax burden is to reduce it to a percentage of population and to note that the population is increasing as fast as taxes.

Congressional debate over tax cutting is likely to center on where to cut: high personal income brackets or low? Business has a stake in each.

If the cut is in the lower brackets, business figures that will give consumers more money to spend at a time when many industries are worrying about their sales volume and the static or lower consumer demand.

If the cut is in the higher brackets, industry figures there will be big savings that can be tapped for investments, thus easing the tight money bind. Perhaps this could increase production and thus help halt inflation.

The old Pennsylvania Railroad station ain't what she used to be! It suddenly has taken on new life and a new dress which places it back in circulation as a public passenger station once more.

Remodeling and fresh coats of paint have transformed the old structure into a very attractive Union Bus Station, which is complete with office, waiting rooms, toilets and restaurant, and with parking space for two buses off the street.

Many of us recall the time when the old C&M Railroad operated several passenger trains daily, and how passengers flocked to and from the station.

That was before automobiles and buses came into the picture to gradually reduce railroad patronage on that road as well as all other railroads passing through the city, until now there is no passenger train service for the city, and travelers depend on autos or bus service.

LARGEST ELM TREE
Probably the largest elm tree in the city stands near the east line of Mrs. Willard Wilson's property on Clinton Ave.

This big elm is five feet or more in diameter near the ground, and the huge trunk spreads out with many large branches giving height and width to the tree.

Thus far it has resisted the Dutch Elm blight which has killed so many trees in the city and county during the past 25 years.

MILLS PICNIC GROUNDS
Until some 40 years ago, Sunday School picnics were held in Jimmie Mills' Grove, a beautiful open woodland on the south side of Robinson Rd., near its eastern intersection with White Rd.

Various churches held their annual meetings there, and the picnics invariably drew hundreds of people from throughout the community.

O. S. Tobin was there with his ice cream, and picnic dinners were spread on all sides.

The events were in the horse and buggy days, and horses, were fastened to trees and fences, and given water and feed at the noon hour. For no good farmer would neglect his horse.

The picnics invariably were in the nature of homecomings, and former ministers of the churches participating took part in the programs.

Those were big events in the community, and were greatly enjoyed, since it afforded an easy means to meet a lot of friends.

I passed the former picnic grounds a few days ago, and again noticed that nothing is left of the woods except a few stumps.

HE WAS NOT CERTAIN
Years ago in horse, buggy and wagon days, John Mallow owned a large orchard southeast of his big brick home (now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Rothrock) on Route 35, east, six miles from Washington C. H.

One night a resident of near Austin, who was gloriously intoxicated, was driving homeward with his horses attached to a wagon. He finally slumped into the wagon bed and the horses went onward without guidance.

They wandered from the highway into the Mallow orchard and when the wagon struck an apple tree, the tongue and double trees broke loose. The horses went on and the owner slumbered peacefully until the next morning when Mallow saw the wagon in the orchard and went to investigate.

Arousing the man in the wagon, whose name is not given for obvious reasons, Mallow asked: "How did you get here?"

Rubbing his eyes to make certain that only one man was addressing him instead of two or three, the man look about and replied:

"Well, if it is me, I drove in here, but if it ain't me, then I don't know how I got here!"

FORTY YEARS AGO
A hundred more draftees were examined here and majority claimed exemptions or were found physically unfit.

The Germans raided London. The British were holding gains made in Flanders as World War I continued relentlessly.

U. S. troops at Camp Sherman seized the Chillicothe municipal light plant, cut off street lights and continued electrical service to Camp Sherman after the city indicated power would be cut off to camp.

Company M was still in training at Camp Mills, L. I.

Traffic was heavy on the Chillicothe Road and calls for improving the highway were being made. Dahl-Campbell Co. sold army official's 480,000 blue denim overalls and jackets.

The proposed city charter was completed and was to be voted on at next election. It called for three commissioners to serve without salary and for a city manager.

Fifteen cents a shock was being paid for corn cutting.

The government was aiding in the fight against hog cholera.

Walter Patton YMCA secretary, arrived in France to do YMCA work in the battle area.

More Women Getting Nod For Government Positions

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women are winning more appointments every year to important posts in state and territorial governments. There are women in top appointive positions in every state in the Union, appointed by the governors or by key state officials.

"It almost would seem," says a Republican National Committee report, "that each incoming governor seeks to top the record of his predecessor in appointing women, for a sizeable influx of women is apparent in the six months that new governors have taken office in 26 of the 48 states."

"The variety of offices to which women have been appointed in state governments is significant," the report continues. "They are serving in governor's cabinets as assistants and deputies to departmental heads and as members of commissions dealing with public welfare, public utilities, employment security, fiscal affairs and education."

Some of the more unusual jobs held by women include assistant secretary of commerce and development in Idaho; motor vehicle commissioner in Florida; commissioner of labor and industry in Maine; Industrial Accident Commission member in Maryland; assistant attorney general in Massachusetts; firemen's pension commissioner in Texas and director of the Bureau of Migration and Employment in Puerto Rico.

The survey shows that 321 women are serving in 1957 state and territorial legislatures. This is an all-time high and an increase of 23 over 1956.

The majority of the women lawmakers, 203, are Republican. Democrats total 113. Popular party members 4, and the Republic party 1. New Hampshire, with 53 women legislators, leads. Vermont, with 50, is second, and Connecticut, with 46, is third.

Arizona, Pennsylvania and Washington state have 12 each. There are no women in the legislatures of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Iowa, Louisiana, Oklahoma or Wisconsin.

The first women to hold jobs in the federal service were two women who were appointed as postmistresses in 1786. Today there are some 15,600 women postmasters, about 50 per cent of the total in the United States. Of this number, New York alone has 660.

The majority of the women postmasters, 9,800, are in fourth class offices serving villages and small towns.

The first enlistment hitch in the French Foreign Legion is five years, and there is no possible exit before the end of that term.

'Other' Teams To Seek Glory This Weekend

Oklahoma To Be Idle After Chalking Up 41st Straight Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College football's "other" teams get a crack at glory next weekend.

Mighty Oklahoma is idle while Bud Wilkinson's speedy Sooners take a Saturday off. Michigan State, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Tennessee are geared to start gunning for the national championship won by Oklahoma the last two years and predicted again by The Associated Press pre-season poll.

Oklahoma, whose next opponent is Iowa State Oct. 5, smacked down Pittsburgh 26-0 Saturday for its 41st straight victory since 1953. Pitt, eighth in the early pickings, was considered the top team in the East, but was no match for the Sooners who unveiled a cazy new quarterback in Carl Dold. Oklahoma's leading major college scorer in 1956, did most of the ball-carrying damage, although three Sooner scores came on tricky aerials, all by different passers.

Iowa's defending Big Ten champions and Michigan should have it the easiest in trying to match Oklahoma's impressive debut. The Hawkeyes meet Utah State, and the Wolverines face Southern California, already soundly whipped by Pacific Coast state Oregon State, 20-0. But Minnesota runs up against a tough Washington outfit that tied Colorado's Orange Bowl winner 6-6. Michigan State opens with conference rival Indiana and Tennessee must handle Auburn, a Southeastern Conference comer. The two Michigan eleven- and Minnesota are rated the best bets to pluck Iowa's crown, and all four, along with Tennessee, were ranked among the nation's top 10 teams.

Overshadowed by the Oklahoma power spurge were strong showings by Georgia Tech, 13-0 over Kentucky; Houston, 7-0 over always-rough Miami, Fla., and Navy, 46-6 over Boston College.

Georgia Tech must come back this week against Southern Methodist, a surprise 13-6 victor over California. Houston is faced with Baylor, the Southwest Conference's choice to finish second behind Texas A&M before Villanova pushed the Bears to the limit, losing under 7-0. Navy meets William and Mary, 7-0 loser to George Washington.

Big Texas teams opened winners, but the Aggies had their No. 2 pre-season rating tarnished as they found Maryland unexpected troublemaker before winning 21-13. Texas Tech should be an easy foe for the Aggies this Saturday. Texas stopped Georgia 26-7, Rice defeated LSU 20-14 and Arkansas whipped Oklahoma State 12-0.

Duke licked South Carolina 26-14 in a key Atlantic Coast Conference battle, but can not ease off against Virginia which held Southern Conference favorite West Virginia to a 6-6 standoff. The latter has a tough conference opener with Virginia Tech coming up.

Clemson, the ACC's last Orange Bowl representative, rolled over Presbyterian 66-0 and rates the nod this week over North Carolina beaten 7-0 by neighbor N.C. State.

Horseshoe Pitching Demonstration Here Tuesday Evening

The city's first horseshoe pitching demonstration in a long time will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Dayton Power & Light Co. Main and East Sts. Howard Bryan, who finished in eighth place in the state tournament in Greenville some weeks ago, is in charge of all arrangements.

Just about the finest pitchers in the state will be here Tuesday night," Bryan said.

At least four well-known pitchers will demonstrate their skill at the meeting. Harold Reno, Sabina's Ohio State champion, has promised to attend, as have Stanley Marker, Martinsville, past state champion, and Leonard Glass and Harold Wolfe, both of Cedarville.

Outside lights have been installed at the DP&L and it is hoped that interest will become sufficient to enter a pitching team in league competition next spring.

The public is invited to Tuesday evening's demonstration.

Country Club Tourney Near End

Dr. Robert Hagerty Wins Golf Title

Dr. Robert Hagerty is the new golf champion of the Country Club. He defeated Bud Dawson Sunday for the title, 4 and 3, with consistently sharp play around the greens.

Dr. Hagerty was 2 up at the end of the first nine holes and maintained that advantage for the next nine as he finished with a 3-over-par for the first 18 holes, while Dawson went 7 over for a 79.

Shooting a 38 on the next nine, Dr. Hagerty was 5 up at the end of 27 holes, which was too much of a lead for Dawson to overcome after having shot a 40 on the third nine.

On the way to the title, Dr. Hagerty turned back Bob Cunningham 2 and 1; Carl Mason 6 and 5; Glen Roseboom 4 and 3 and Chuck Cummings 2 up.

Dr. Hagerty has been hanging at the throne room door for several years; four times he went to the finals only to lose out in the last match. But this was his year as he played steady and consistent golf, despite the soggy fairways.

Dr. Richard Korn, who has held the championship for the past year, was not here to defend his title this year. His is now in the Army as Lieut. Korn. He entered the service only a few weeks after he received his degree in dentistry from Ohio State University.

FOUR OF THE FIVE flights in the tourney, each set up to pit golfers of comparable ability against each other, have been completed.

Stanley Hagerty, father of Dr. Hagerty won the second flight; Mike Harrison took the third flight; Charles Reinke the fourth flight and Bart Mahoney the fifth.

Championship of the first flight will be decided in the match between Howard Mann and the winner of the match between Bob Cunningham and Ed Cunningham. Deadline for the Cunningham vs. Cunningham match is Sept. 28.

Trophies for champions of this tournament, the handicap tournament, the two women's tournaments played on the same bases and the parent child tourney will be presented at a dinner at the club Oct. 10.

Sugar Ray Is Underdog To Basilio

NEW YORK — Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson defends his title tonight against Carmen Basilio in a battle of champions that could be quick and explosive.

The 30-year-old welterweight king from Chittenango, N. Y., is a 5-7 favorite to dethrone Sugar Ray in a fight scheduled for 15 rounds at Yankee Stadium. The betting is 1 to 3 the fight won't go the limit.

This is based on Basilio's aggressive, body-punching style and Robinson's vaunted sharp-shooting ability and preference for an opponent who comes to him. And the heavier wallop Robinson will have a weight edge of about eight pounds, 159 to 151, and a decided advantage in height (5-11 to 5-7 1/2) and reach (72 1/2 to 67).

Favoring Basilio is the Harlem dandy's age (Robinson says 36, the record book has it 37), and the question of whether he will be able to unload his bombs against a swarming opponent who will be tossing sticks of dynamite himself. Sugar Ray always has had trouble with foes who crowd him, especially those who can take a punch like Basilio. The ring-scarred Basilio never has been stopped in 70 fights and dropped only once.

Once again, the general feeling is that Sugar Ray will have to nail his iron-chinned foe within six rounds to win.

Robinson, on his 45 per cent of everything, and a $255,000 theater TV guarantee, stands to collect about $500,000. Basilio, getting 20 per cent and a $110,000 guarantee for TV, should earn about $225,000.

Subsequent to the Browns 29-3 loss to the Bears Friday night in Chicago, it was learned that Hal Bradley, a "messenger" guard, had received a broken bone in his right leg during the play and will be out of action three weeks.

General Workouts Planned for Lions

Neither offense nor defense will be shown any partiality in this week's workouts by the Lions of WHS as they prepare for their third game of the season, and second at home, with the boys from Little Miami High School of Morrow Friday night here.

This was the way Head Coach Fred Domenico summed up the practice program Monday morning, after the Lions had dropped their first two games by shut-outs.

Domenico said of the offense, which has failed to carry across the goal line in two games: "It's not bad... and it's improving."

Of the defense, which has been punctured for a total of 33 points, he said: "It's basically sound, although a few weaknesses developed in the first two games."

LITTLE MIAMI'S gridders lost their game last Friday night, 18 to 0, to Madeira, a Cincinnati suburb. Preliminary scouting reports indicate "the Little Miamians are bigger than the Lions, but the WHS coaching staff points out that a weight disadvantage is not new and that this is not giving them serious concern."

Friday night's game, however, will be the first in which the Lions have gone against a single wing offense, such as that used by Little Miami. Both offense and defense is based on a balanced line.

Domenico gave much of the credit for Xenia's 13 to 0 victory over the Lions Friday night to "good, offensive blocking (by the Buccaneers), especially in the line."

Failure of the WHS offense against both Linden-McKinley and Xenia was blamed largely on inexperience by Domenico. He pointed out that "fumbles hurt us" in the Xenia game because so many of them were not recovered.

Dick Welsh, injured in the Linden game, is expected to be back at his old center post this week and his experience is being counted on to improve the timing of the Lion attack.

Both of the Lions' games this season have been played in the mud, and as a result, their aerial attack has not been given a fair test. Domenico said he is hoping for a dry field next Friday, so some passes can be attempted to lend some variation to the WHS offense.

Top Pro Grid Teams: Giants And Packers?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If anyone cares to make post-season predictions on the basis of pre-season exhibitions then the National Football League championship game in December will have the defending champion New York Giants facing the Green Bay Packers.

The league officially opens its 1957 season next Sunday, and if exhibition games mean anything Green Bay will be a definite threat in the Western Division.

The Packers concluded their pre-season warmups Saturday with a 5-0 record. Green Bay has to battle back in the last two minutes to tie the Pittsburgh Steelers 10-10 in the final tuneup. The Chicago Cardinals, runnerup in the Eastern Division, last year, salvaged its lone exhibition victory with a 28-21 decision over the Baltimore Colts.

The Giants, out to defend their Eastern crown and league championship shut out the Detroit Lions Sunday, 17-0 for a 3-2 record and best in the Eastern Division. The San Francisco 49ers handed the Philadelphia Eagles their sixth straight setback, 17-14.

Sunday's schedule: Chicago Bears at Green Bay; Detroit at Baltimore; New York at Cleveland; Philadelphia at Los Angeles; Washington at Pittsburgh; Chicago Cards at San Francisco.

Today Expected To Be 'The' Day For Yanks, Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only the formalities of crowning the New York Yankees kingpins of the American League and the Milwaukee Braves rulers of the National League remained to be taken care of today.

These details could be settled to-night when the Chicago White Sox play Kansas City and the Braves meet St. Louis.

The Yanks assured themselves of at least a tie for the AL flag Sunday when they whipped the Boston Red Sox, 5-1.

If the Cards lose one of the three-game set with the Braves, they can start counting their second-place money.

The White Sox kept their faint hope alive Sunday by stopping the Cleveland Indians 9-5.

The Braves downed the Chicago Cubs 9-7, but the Cards stayed with them by halting Cincinnati 7-5.

Among the also-rans, Brooklyn defeated Philadelphia 7-3, and Pittsburgh vanquished New York 5-1 in the National League. In the American, Baltimore edged Washington 6-5, and Kansas City won a double-header from Detroit 4-3 and 2-1.

The Yanks walked to their victory over Boston. Four of their five runs were forced in through walks. Until the sixth inning, it was a close ball game.

Ted Williams had his home run in the fourth—the first hit of the game—and the Yanks had tied it in the fifth. Then, with two out in the sixth, Tony Kubek and Jerry Lumpe singled.

Red Sox starter Dave Sisler—who had a 5-0 lifetime record against the Yanks—suddenly lost all semblance of control. He walked in succession, Enos Slaughter, Joe Collins, Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald, forcing in three runs.

Along came George Susce and issued a pass to Mickey Mantle, forcing in the fourth run. Yogi Berra grounded out to end the parade.

Williams finished his day's chores with a .383 batting average, which virtually assures him of the batting championship. Mantle went hitless in three trips to the plate and his mark dipped to .365.

The White Sox, Braves and Cards won their games the hard way.

The Sox presented Billy Pierce

with his 20th victory, but the little left-hander slipped in the back door. He was behind 3-2 when he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. The Sox went on to score four runs in that inning, so Pierce got credit for the game.

The Braves employed half a dozen pitchers against the pesky Cubs and had to overcome deficits of four and three runs. Rookie Don McMahon, fifth of the parade, got credit for the triumph, although he needed help from Joey Jay after walking a couple of pinch hitters with one out.

The Braves were behind right up to the ninth when Eddie Mathews hit a home run to tie it. Then Hurricane Bob Hazel bashed another homer in the 10th and the ball game was over.

It took a six-run uprising in the seventh by the Cards to cut down Cincinnati. Still, the Redlegs weren't finished and they began to wake up again in the eighth, only to have relief pitcher Bill Muffett choke them off.

Teenagers Penalized For Spree at Game

SPRINGFIELD — Juvenile Judge Harry G. Gram has handed out sentences to seven teenagers for disturbances after a football game last week.

The youths, 15-17 years of age, were given suspended sentences to Boys Industrial School, placed on probation until their 21st birthday, fined $25 and costs and told to pay the medical bills resulting from an attack on a 16-year-old boy. The fight reportedly took place after the Springfield Public - Columbus West high school football game Sept. 13.

'Other' Teams To Seek Glory This Weekend

Oklahoma To Be Idle After Chalking Up 41st Straight Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College football's "other" teams get a crack at glory next week-end.

Mighty Oklahoma is idle while Bud Wilkinson's speedy Sooners take a Saturday off. Michigan State, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Tennessee are geared to start gunning for the national championship won by Oklahoma the last two years and predicted again by The Associated Press pre-season poll.

Oklahoma, whose next opponent is Iowa State Oct. 5, smacked down Pittsburgh 26-0 Saturday for its 41st straight victory since 1953. Pitt, eighth in the early pickings, was considered the top team in the East, but was no match for the Sooners who unveiled a cagey new quarterback in Carl Dodd.

Oklahoma's leading major college scorer in 1956, did most of the ball-carrying damage, although three Sooner scores came on tricky aerials, all by different passers.

Iowa's defending Big Ten champions and Michigan should have it the easiest in trying to match Oklahoma's impressive debut. The Hawkeyes meet Utah State, and the Wolverines face Southern California, already soundly whipped by Pacific Coast king Oregon State, 20-0. But Minnesota runs up against a tough Washington outfit that tied Colorado's Orange Bowl winner 6-6; Michigan State opens with conference rival Indiana and Tennessee must handle Auburn, a Southeastern Conference comer.

The two Michigan eleven's and Minnesota are rated the best bets to pluck Iowa's crown, and all four, along with Tennessee, were ranked among the nation's top 10 teams.

Overshadowed by the Oklahoma power spurge were strong showings by Georgia Tech, 13-0 over Kentucky; Houston, 7-0 over all-ways-rough Miami, Fla., and Navy, 46-6 over Boston College.

Georgia Tech must come back this week against Southern Methodist, a surprise 13-6 victor over California. Houston is faced with Baylor, the Southwest Conference's choice to finish second behind Texas A&M before Villanova pushed the Bears to the limit, going under 7-0. Navy meets William and Mary, 7-0 loser to George Washington.

Big Texas teams opened winners, but the Aggies had their 2 pre-season rating tarnished as they found Maryland unexpectedly troublesome before winning 21-13. Texas Tech should be an easy foe for the Aggies this Saturday. Texas stopped Georgia 26-7. Rice defeated LSU 20-14 and Arkansas whipped Oklahoma State 12-0.

Duke licked South Carolina 26-14 in a key Atlantic Coast Conference battle, but can not ease off against Virginia which held Southern Conference favorite West Virginia to a 6-6 standoff. The latter has a tough conference opener with Virginia Tech coming up.

Clemson, the ACC's last Orange Bowl representative, rolled over Presbyterian 66-0 and rates the nod this week over North Carolina beaten 7-0 by neighbor N. C. State.

Horseshoe Pitching Demonstration Here Tuesday Evening

The city's first horseshoe pitching demonstration in a long time will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Dayton Power & Light Co., Main and East Sts. Howard Bryan, who finished in eighth place in the state tournament in Greenville some weeks ago, is in charge of all arrangements.

"Just about the finest pitchers in the state will be here Tuesday night," Bryan said.

At least four well known pitchers will demonstrate their skill at the meeting. Harold Reno, Sabina's Ohio State champion, has promised to attend, as have Stanley Manker, Martinsville, past state champion, and Leonard Glass and Harold Wolfe, both of Cedarville.

Outside lights have been installed at the DP&L and it is hoped that interest will become sufficient to enter a pitching team in league competition next spring.

The public is invited to Tuesday evening's demonstration.

Dr. Robert Hagerty Wins Golf Title

Dr. Robert Hagerty is the new golf champion of the Country Club. He defeated Bud Dawson Sunday for the title, 4 and 3, with consistency sharp play around the greens.

Dr. Hagerty was 2 up at the end of the first nine holes and maintained that advantage for the next nine as he finished with a 3-over-par for the first 18 holes, while Dawson went 7 over for a 79.

Shooting a 38 on the next nine, Dr. Hagerty was 5 up at the end of 27 holes, which was too much of a lead for Dawson to overcome after having shot a 40 on the third nine.

On the way to the title, Dr. Hagerty turned back Bob Cunningham 2 and 1; Carl Mason 6 and 5; Glen Roseboom 4 and 3 and Chuck Cummings 2 up.

Redlegs Seen Cinch for 4th Place

CINCINNATI — Cincinnati's Redlegs were the peers of the National League earlier this year, but a fourth place finish for them is almost assured.

The 7-5 come-from-behind defeat at the hands of St. Louis in rain-spattered Crosley Field Sunday was the second in three games and virtually sealed off Cincinnati's chances on third place.

In fact, a sweep of all three contests was a necessity for either team to keep their ambitions focused: The Cards on overhauling league-leader Milwaukee and the Reds on wresting third place from Brooklyn.

For the first six innings the Rhinelanders had a tidy 4-1 lead. But Cincinnati pitching fell apart all at once.

Starter Brooks Lawrence, winningest Redleg pitcher, was driven from the mound early in the seventh after two singles surrounding a double brought in two runs.

Hershell Freeman came in to try his hand, but he stayed only long enough to give up three more runs on two doubles.

One final Cardinal run came when Wally Moon hit into an out.

Lawrence had held the Cards to two hits while the Reds stacked up an early lead.

Catcher Ed Bailey whacked his 20th home run of the year in the second inning for the Redlegs.

General Workouts Planned for Lions

Neither offense nor defense will be shown any partiality in this week's workouts by the Lions of WHS as they prepare for their third game (of the season, and second at home, with the boys from Little Miami High School of Morrow Friday night here.

This was the way Head Coach Fred Domenico summed up the practice program Monday morning, after the Lions had dropped their first two games by shut-outs.

Domenico said of the offense, which has failed to carry across the goal line in two games: "It's not bad...and it's improving."

Of the defense, which has been punctured for a total of 33 points, he said: "It's basically sound...although a few weaknesses developed in the first two games."

LITTLE MIAMI'S gridders lost their game last Friday night, 18 to 0, to Madeira, a Cincinnati suburb. Preliminary scouting reports indicate "the Little Miamians are bigger than the Lions, but the WHS coaching staff points out that a weight disadvantage is not new and that this is not giving them serious concern."

Friday night's game, however, will be the first in which the Lions have gone against a single wing offense, such as that used by Little Miami. Both offense and defense is based on a balanced line.

Domenico gave much of the credit for Xenia's 13 to 0 victory over the Lions Friday night to "good offensive blocking (by the Buccaneers), especially in the line."

Failure of the WHS offense against both Linden-McKinley and Xenia was blamed largely on inexperience by Domenico. He pointed out that "fumbles hurt us" in the Xenia game because so many of them were not recovered.

Dick Welsh, injured in the Linden game, is expected to be back at his old center post this week and his experience is being counted on to improve the timing of the Lion attack.

Both of the Lions' games this season have been played in the mud, and as a result, their aerial attack has not been given a fair test. Domenico said he is hoping for a dry field next Friday, so some passes can be attempted to lend some variation to the WHS offense.

The league officially opens its 1957 season next Sunday, and if exhibition games mean anything Green Bay will be a definite threat in the Western Division.

The Packers concluded their pre-season warmups Saturday with a 5-0-1 record. Green Bay had to battle back in the last two minutes to tie the Pittsburgh Steelers 10-10 in the final tuneup. The Chicago Cardinals, runnerup in the Eastern Division, last year, salvaged its lone exhibition victory with a 28-21 decision over the Baltimore Colts.

The Giants, out to defend their Eastern crown and league championship shut out the Detroit Lions Sunday, 17-0 for a 3-2 record and best in the Eastern Division. The San Francisco 49ers handed the Philadelphia Eagles their sixth straight setback, 17-14.

Sunday's schedule: Chicago Bears at Green Bay; Detroit at Baltimore; New York at Cleveland; Philadelphia at Los Angeles; Washington at Pittsburgh; Chicago Cards at San Francisco.

Seixas, 34-year-old Davis Cupper from Philadelphia, downed Gilbert Shea, unseeded Los Angeles player, 9-7, 6-3, 6-4 Sunday.

Miss Gibson, of New York city, won from Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-3, 6-1. It was like a replay of their recent U. S. National final at Forest Hills, when Miss Gibson won.

Ryder Cuppers Top U. S. Challenge Team BUFFALO, N. Y. — Jackie Burke Jr., U. S. Ryder Cup captain, says his team beat "a great challenge team in all that mud and rain—one as good as the British Ryder Cup team."

The American team beat Sam Snead's challengers 9 1/2 to 5 1/2 at Wanahak Country Club's over the weekend.

Today Expected To Be 'The' Day For Yanks, Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Only the formalities of crowning the New York Yankees kingpins of the American League and the Milwaukee Braves rulers of the National League remained to be taken care of today.

These details could be settled tonight when the Chicago White Sox play Kansas City and the Braves meet St. Louis.

The Yanks assured themselves of at least a tie for the AL flag Sunday when they whipped the Boston Red Sox, 5-1.

If the Cards lose one of the three-game set with the Braves, they can start counting their second-place money.

The White Sox kept their faint hope alive Sunday by stopping the Cleveland Indians 9-5.

The Braves downed the Chicago Cubs 9-7, but the Cards stayed with them by halting Cincinnati 7-5.

Among the also-rans, Brooklyn defeated Philadelphia 7-3, and Pittsburgh vanquished New York 5-1 in the National League. In the American, Baltimore edged Washington 6-5, and Kansas City won a double-header from Detroit 4-3 and 2-1.

The Yanks walked to their victory over Boston. Four of their five runs were forced in through walks. Until the sixth inning, it was a close ball game.

Ted Williams had hit a home run in the fourth—the first hit of the game—and the Yanks had tied it in the fifth. Then, with two out in the sixth, Tony Kubek and Jerry Lumpe singled.

Red Sox starter Dave Sisler—who had a 5-0 lifetime record against the Yanks—suddenly lost all semblance of control. He walked in succession, Enos Slaughter, Joe Collins, Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald, forcing in three runs.

Along came George Susce and issued a pass to Mickey Mantle, forcing in the fourth run. Yogi Berra grounded out to end the parade.

Williams finished his day's chores with a .383 batting average, which virtually assures him of the batting championship. Mantle went hitless in three trips to the plate and his mark dipped to .365.

The White Sox, Braves and Cards won their games the hard way.

with his 20th victory, but the little left-hander slipped in the back door. He was behind 3-2 when he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. The Sox went on to score four runs in that inning, so Pierce got credit for the game.

The Braves employed half a dozen pitchers against the pesky Cubs and had to overcome deficits of four and three runs. Rookie Don McMahon, fifth of the parade, got credit for the triumph, although he needed help from Joey Jay after walking a couple of pinch hitters with one out.

The Braves were behind right up to the ninth when Eddie Mathews hit a home run to tie it. Then Hurricane Bob Hazel bashed another homer in the 10th and the ball game was over.

It took a six-run uprising in the seventh by the Cards to cut down Cincinnati. Still, the Redlegs weren't finished and they began to wake up again in the eighth, only to have relief pitcher Bill Muffett choke them off.

Teenagers Penalized For Spree at Game

SPRINGFIELD — Juvenile Judge Harry G. Gram has handed out sentences to seven teenagers for disturbances after a football game last week.

The youths, 15-17 years of age, were given suspended sentences to Boys Industrial School, placed on probation until their 21st birthday, fined $25 and costs and told to pay the medical bills resulting from an attack on a 16-year-old boy. The fight reportedly took place after the Springfield Public - Columbus West high school football game Sept. 13.

With the "Brown Jug" and the Plowing all over, we can get back to normal. Both are great events and interest a lot of folks.
I Buicked down to Good Hope Thursday eve, and took the Lions Club on a short Caribbean tour via pictures. They really have a live wire club down there. The fellowship was very fine. They are backing some fine projects such as street lights for Good Hope. And the food was wonderful. A real ham dinner with all the trimmings. Thanks to all for a pleasant evening.

Jack and Hope Toops from Upper Sandusky visited us last Sunday down at the cottage. We had a good old fashioned visit and broiled steaks in the evening. It's a real pleasure just to sit and have a good old fashioned visit with a very nice couple. Come again folks.
Next week, wife and I and our three daughters, Donna, Doris and Marian are taking off for New England. I'll probably have a heck of a time with all those women. So men wish me luck. I'm fairly sure they won't leave me at some out of the way place, because I think they are figuring on me paying the bills.

Of course we are going in one of those fine GM cars. This time it happens to be an Olds. I told Dale Ward if I took his wife, he'd have to furnish the car. Ha! So you'll hear from New England later.

Man, 53, Held For Violation Of Probation

A 53-year-old man picked up in Cincinnati last week for intoxication is in County Jail here today on a seven-year-old probation violation charge.

Awaiting Fayette County Common Pleas Court hearing is Kenneth Miller, of Cincinnati, who was placed on probation here Feb. 18, 1950, after being convicted of picking pockets.

Cincinnati police discovered the old offense when they made a routine check of their files after his arrest last week.

The court here had ordered Miller to pay back $235 he was convicted of stealing, and to pay the costs of his trial. He was also ordered to report monthly. He has never done any of these things, Sheriff Hays said.

He told police he came out of the house after he heard some noise, and arrived on the scene just in time to see several boys scurry into a dark-colored 1949 or 1950 Ford and drive away. The car had twin exhausts and blue jewels on the tail lights, he said.

Legion Liquor Permit Appeal Slated Tuesday

An appeal of an earlier ruling denying Paul H. Hughey Post, American Legion, a permit for the sale of liquor, beer and wine to members only will be heard Tuesday by the Ohio Board of Liquor Control.

The local post, which is now licensed to sell beer to members and non-members, made application for a club license several months ago, but the application was rejected after school authorities and representatives of two churches protested.

The Legion building, 212 N. Fayette St., is within 500 feet of Washington High School, Grace Methodist Church and the First Christian Church.
